DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,10-11, 13-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being unpatentable by Ichiro et al. (JP 11-335267).

Ichiro teaches the same block copolymer compositions as the applicant and the method for producing them, the composition forms micelles and are used to deliver water scarcely soluble drugs (including camptothecin), all of the above are within the limits specified by the applicants claims. See abstr, claims 1-7, [0014]-[0018]. With regard to Claims 1,13-14, which are product by process claims, the product disclosed by the prior art is identical to the claimed product, even though (it is made by a somewhat different process/the prior art is silent on the method of making). There is no evidence to show that the claimed process imparts any patentable distinction between the claimed product and that of the prior art. Regarding the phrases "micelle in water can stably be maintained in a drug concentration of at least [3] [6] [10] mg/ml", in claims 10,15-18 was given no patentable weight since Ichiro teaches a very broad range of concentrations for the drug in the composition, the burden is now shifted to the applicants to show that those concentrations do not encompass the claimed concentration of the drug in the micelle solution. It is also inherent that since the polymers and drugs are the same the inventor would optimize the solution so that it can be stable at various drug concentrations, thus the examiner gave no patentable weight to the drug concentrations in solution for claims 10,15-18.
